

Narrating an Event: The Death of my Sister

H. Ryott Glayzer

May 3, 2024

I lay limp on the back seat of my friend's truck, speeding down the highway at 75 miles an hour. My face is hot and wet with tears as I try to process what just happened. My sister is dead. Gone. I will never see her again, and somehow I have to accept that.